Conducting an Asset Protection Audit

Understand the considerations and questions to ask at all stages of the estate planning process

It is critical to know what assets our clients have at all stages of the estate planning process. At the beginning, are we talking about and designing the right plan (tax considerations, creditor protection, or MassHealth eligibility)? At the end of the engagement, how do we help our client align their assets to make the estate plans effective? After the engagement is over, how do we help our clients keep the plans alive and viable with the possible addition of new assets or changes in circumstances?

Agenda

- Why Do You Need an Asset Audit at the Beginning of the Engagement?
 - Tax exposure; Creditor risk exposure; MassHealth eligibility
 - Are any assets located outside of Massachusetts, and if so, what type of assets—real property, personal property, or other?
- Asset Audit at the End of the Engagement (Asset Alignment)
 - Titling assets (real v. personal property) or beneficiary designations
 - Tax implications of asset alignment decisions
 - MassHealth impact of asset alignment decisions
- Scope of the Engagement Related to Asset Alignment
 - Pros and cons of the firm taking this matter on
- Post-Engagement Asset Audits
 - How often and what questions to ask

Mandatory CLE credits

Individual attorneys are responsible for checking with their particular state CLE accreditation authority about whether and how much credit will be granted. Although MCLE does not pursue state-based credit, MCLE programs are regularly approved in many jurisdictions. It is the responsibility of the individual attorney to submit the information and certifications required under the respective state rule to the appropriate authorities in the jurisdictions in which they seek credit.

Depending on the jurisdiction, lawyers can satisfy their mandatory CLE requirements online with MCLE's webcasts, which feature periodic attendance prompts, electronic written materials, and the opportunity to receive a certificate of attendance.

If you're unable to participate in a program on the date for which you registered, you will receive an email about how to access the program on demand via webcast and/or downloadable mp3 file, including the written materials in electronic form, in full satisfaction of the tuition paid. If you prefer a refund, let us know by the end of the business day prior to the program and we'll refund your tuition after deducting a $35 processing fee.
